The joint discussion between Mr. LANDERS and Mr. PORTER, in this city, on Friday of next week, will evidently be attended by a big crowd. Let every Democrat turn out and hear our man get away with the other fellow.

It is claimed that America has no professional beauties, but those who have seen ROSCOE COCKLING know this to be untrue. The people of Fort Wayne will shortly have an opportunity to see and hear the distinguished Senator whose flight from the mansion of Governor SPRAGUE, of Rhode Island, was accelerated by a shot-gun.

One of the most encouraging signs of Democratic success is to be found in the vigor, variety and universality of Republican lying. It is hard to account for it except on the ground of consciousness that all facts and records and sources of information are against them, and that their only chance lies in their being able to make them appear just the opposite of what they are—and to this end they direct all the efforts of the campaign. People have found out their tactics however, and find the only safe rule to follow is to assume that every statement about party politics to be found in a republican journal, is an outright and downright lie. It is a hard and harsh rule we admit, but it is the only safe one to follow.

Hon. GEORGE W. JULIAN is expected to address the Democratic meeting at the Rink on the 7th of September. It is needless to entreat people to come out to hear this distinguished man—there is no need of that—but we do ask Democrats who read this to make mention of it from this time on, when they have a chance, to the day for his speaking. Only let it be generally and extensively known that Mr. JULIAN is to speak at a given time and place, and there need be no guessing or conjecture as to the result.

When this campaign is over and the attention of the people can be counted upon for a fair hearing, we propose to call up the fact of this great man being so long kept out of sight, and why it is that we only hear of him at some great crisis in State affairs. There are places in the public service that require the very best talent at command, and that to-day are filled by men of less ability and capacity. We think this is the result of combinations and confederacies among certain men for the advancement of their own selfish ends, and thereby to the prejudice of the public service. We want to see such men as GEORGE W. JULIAN brought more to the front than they have been. We must either do this or leave our battles to be fought without their help.

For lack of Republican home talent adapted to the serious task of combating tough problems, the Morning Gazette seems to have been under the necessity of bringing a man down from Chicago to help handle the heavy artillery of that concern. This is wise, proper, and in our opinion, judicious, and we do not hesitate to compliment the sagacity that has so promptly tried to respond to the needs of the hour and of the occasion. It was but the despairing cry of "help me, Cassius, or I sink," and one which even a Stalwart man ought not to be ashamed to make when he realizes the impotency of his own unaided strength to keep him from sinking. We sincerely hope that though this fresh journalistic reinforcement comes as a "professional," he comes also as a gentleman—and so far as we know, we are bound to say that we both hope and believe he is—at least we are led to this conclusion from the slight touch of his quality to be gathered from his editorials of yesterday and to-day. Like all old residents however, we confess that we have been a little curious to find out something more than is at first given out of the outfit and equipment of this invading reinforcement that has been brought into our midst to startle and awe us into amazement, and confound us by the burst of its thunders; and our first reconnaissance has been rewarded by the discovery that his imposing park of artillery is mainly made up of small bore guns, and of limited range at that—The editorial outfit too, though more pretentious in its catalogue, and completely adapted to purposes of aggression of Republican warfare in a population like that of Chicago—easily scared or converted—will be found of no more use in assaulting this Gibraltar of Indiana Democracy, than an assortment of so many pop-guns—for all practical purpose he might as well have brought to the assault bundles of prairie hay—This would have been found good for something, if nothing more than the cure of heaves in broken winded horses, or for breast works in the more desperate stages of assault, after the example of Jackson's use of bales of cotton at New Orleans. The bales of prairie hay would have been found good for something but the array of wore-out antiquated law books he brings instead of prairie hay, we pronounce absolutely good for nothing. For example:

His first citation from it is from "Bouvier's Law Dictionary"—evidently a French authority, so far as we can judge from the name, who never was in America, much less Indiana, in his life, and who, so far as we know, may have died, (poor fellow—peace to his soul,) a hundred years ago, and who never dreamed of his book being quoted as authority for what he did not know, or even profess to know anything about—a good man in his day, but who never was accepted as a judge anywhere but in France and by Frenchmen as far back as the time of "Le Grand Monarch, Louis 14th." It is to be bountied if the Frenchmen in Canada will be willing to take Monsieur BOUVIER for authority, and consent to follow him as guide, philosopher and friend; but we will wager a new hat that whatever the Canucks may do about him, the French that have lived among and profited by the teaching of American Democracy will not give a fig for the antiquated reminiscence of this Monsieur BOUVIER. Whether there are any works of German authority for the large Democratic German element among us we cannot yet tell further than that none is to be found on the catalogue or has yet been quoted. From this we rather suspect it is the Frenchmen rather than the Germans our new editorial brother is setting his traps for. However the German books may be quoted on us after he gets through with the Frenchmen, and as we can't read a word of German we shall have to rely on our good friends, Capt. HETLER and Mr. SARNIGHAUSEN, to keep him from putting any Republican tricks upon us in German when he gets to that part of his task.

But laying all joking aside, we tell our new editorial brother that he has commenced in his new field of labor by pulling the wrong set of strings. We corn-cracking Hoosier Democrats don't care the snap of a finger for such antiquated book-learning as he has brought down from Chicago, and has begun to pour out upon us. We are rather disposed to pride ourselves upon possession of the largest public school fund in existence, and when an outsider comes among us and undertakes to indulge in his book-learning, we expect him at least to give us something new and fresh—but in the main, we prefer that he should confine himself to the old standard authorities, of which we acknowledge six as of binding authority, and these are the Bible, the constitution of the United States, the acts of congress, the constitution of Indiana, Shakespeare and Webster's unabridged dictionary; any proposition in politics that can be sustained by authorities drawn from any one of these, may be considered as having a fair chance of ultimate triumph; but any one that proposes to get along without the aid and support of at least one of them, may as well be set down as being "dead as a door nail" from the very start, and it is proof of the inherent badness of all our friend has so far put forth, that it is not only not supported by any one of them, but is in possible conflict with all six. Instead of relying upon the dead Frenchman's dictionary, that in all honesty of purpose was intended for French politics under the rule of a king, to prove that a member of congress is an "officer," he ought to have given citation by number of section, and date of approval of the act of congress that authorizes the election of congressmen and prescribes the qualifications of voters and then followed up this first step of the demonstration by referring to "the unabridged" dictionary, which is an American work of a still living author, born and reared under free American institutions, and shown from that that "an officer" is some one "appointed" by the appointing power in the state and "commissioned" to do certain things, and that in truth and in fact he is not now and never has been, and never can be "elected" at all. We have not a copy of this great unabridged just at hand for reference, but no matter about that, we have such implicit confidence in its definitions being always conformable to the requirements of common sense, that we will take the risk of its being found when produced, to agree in substance with what we assume it to be, barring the little differences of phraseology always allowed for the language of two great men when defining the same idea or proposition. And so in like manner and by like processes of demonstration and the test of recognized authorities, all our new brother's propositions, so far put forth may be demolished one after another.

The Joint Discussion Between Landers and Porter.

The chief feature of the political canvass in this State will be the joint discussions which the Republican and Democratic State Central Committees have finally agreed upon and definitely arranged between Judge Porter and Frank Landers, the opposing candidates for Governor. The first of the joint meetings will be held at South Bend next Thursday afternoon. The several joint meetings, one of which is appointed for every Congressional District in the State, will draw immense crowds. The time and places of the meetings are as follows:

Sept. 2—South Bend, Thirteenth District.	Sept. 11—Bloomington, Fourth District.
Sept. 3—Fort Wayne, Twelfth District.	Sept. 12—Vernon, Third District.
Sept. 4—Dunkirk, Jay county, Eleventh District.	Sept. 14—Winamac, Tenth District.
Sept. 5—Frankfort, Ninth District.	Sept. 15—Vincennes, Second District.
Sept. 7—Terre Haute, Eighth District.	Sept. 16—Boonville, First District.
Sept. 8—Greencastle, Fifth District.
Sept. 9—Fairfield, Shelby county, Seventh District.
Sept. 10—Cambridge City, Sixth District.

Dr. Harter's FEVER & AGUE SPECIFIC

STANDS TO-DAY WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD. For the cure of all kinds of Ague and Chills it has no equal; having stood the test of universal use for thirty years in the most malarial districts. It never fails to cure, not merely removing for a time the symptoms, but eradicating the cause of the disease, thereby making a permanent cure. Price only 75 cts.

Manufactured by The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., No. 213 N. Main Street, St. Louis.

Rev. F. HACKETT, Supt. German Protestant Orphan's Home, St. Charles Rock Road, St. Louis Co., writing April 30th, 1877, says: "Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific is a positive cure for Chills and Fever; has never failed with us."

Mr. J. C. WELBORN of Keosauqua, Ill., says: "I cured a little girl of Ague of three years' standing, with Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific, after the best physicians failed to benefit her."

Dr. YOUNGBLOOD of Little York, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific in my practice, and can heartily recommend it to the public."

The burglar tools recently captured by Marshal Diehl consist of a pair of drills, a powder transporter and a number of case knives besides a number of other ingenious devices for cracking safes. They must certainly have belonged to a thoroughbred burglar.

In response to numerous solicitations by a great majority of our society people, we will state that the SENTINEL'S society column, which was discontinued some time ago on account of the dull season, will soon be a leading feature of each Saturday's issue.

The paper to be established at Kansas City by Nelson and Moss will be Republican in politics and will fly the name of Credit Mobilier Garfield, and of the man who was kicked out of the New York Custom House for dishonest practices, at the head of its editorial columns.

Now, look here; let's have some sort of consistency in the verdict. Some of the papers are saying the watering place season has reached its height and others declare that its backbone is broken. How in the name of anatomy can it reach any decent elevation with a fracture in its spinal column?

In the two districts just enumerated three hundred and fifty six additional names have been added to the former enumeration. If this number is to be found in only two districts it certainly furnishes a sufficient warrant for the retaking of the entire city which should be done.

Mr. M. F. Myers, the secretary of the Ohio Valley Mutual Protection Association, is in the city, and is making the Mayer house his headquarters. Mr. Myers is a genial gentleman, and will remain in the city for a week or more for the purpose of looking after the interests of the company he represents.

The Young Men's Republican Club made their appearance in parade on the streets of the city last evening and formed a very creditable procession. Notwithstanding the fact that the Democratic party is largely in the ascendancy in the municipality the Republican boys were permitted to tread our boulevards without let or hindrance, no stones, bricksbats or other missiles being hurled at them to their serious injury as was the case when the Young Men's Democratic Club made its initial parade.

A Huntertown correspondent writes that on and after Monday next Mr. J. O. Gay will make Garret his home. Huntertown is loth to lose so good a citizen as Mr. Gay. A Hancock hickory pole was raised at Huntertown on Saturday evening last, on which occasion Fort Wayne was represented in the persons of the orators of the evening but our correspondent neglected to name them. There was a large gathering of the Democrats of Perry township and the meeting was held in Shoaf's Hall.

Mart Detzer is in Chicago.

There will be services in the churches to-morrow.

The drama will shortly be made a feature of the Olympic.

M. E. Fitzgibbon and his corps of assistants take the cake in the tonsorial profession in this city.

There is a rumor afloat to the effect that George Richards, the bill poster, was married last night, but as the reporter could not get his optics on George to-day no positive statement can be made.

The quarterly meeting at the Berry street M. E. church will be held this evening and to-morrow. Sermon this evening at 8 o'clock. Love feast to-morrow at 9:30 o'clock, and sermon both morning and evening by Dr. Marine. These will be Dr. Marine's last sermons in this city before he removes to Greencastle.

An inquest on the body of an unknown man who was run over at Tack's Run, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, was held on Thursday morning. The unfortunate man is described as being five feet eight or nine inches high, aged about thirty years, wearing a blue and white checkered shirt, brown barred coat and vest, dark casimere pants, black felt hat, low shoes and having dark, thin chin whiskers. He was struck by the accommodation coming west, and died almost instantly. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Incipient Blaze.

At 11:30 last night the department was called out. A fire had broken out in the moulding room of Olds' foundry, on water street, but was extinguished by bystanders without the services of the department.

Local Flashes from the Decatur Democrat.

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL is rapidly improving under Mr. Hackett's management.

The Democracy of Allen county are becoming thoroughly organized, and the prospects are very flattering for an increased majority this fall.

Seven Republican members of a Garfield club in Fort Wayne went over in a body to a Hancock club, which the same they joined. Let the Gazette import another French editor and there won't be a Garfield club left to tell the mournful tale.

Judge O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, will address the people of Decatur on the political questions of the hour, at the court-house, on next Wednesday evening. Everybody is invited. The Judge is an able and pleasant speaker. Let there be a full attendance.

Two weeks have passed since Gov. Hendricks spoke in Fort Wayne, and the Gazette don't thoroughly understand the speech. The trouble is that Mr. Hendricks hit them so hard they can't fully recover. There is a perceptible lack of calibre on the editorial staff of the Gazette.

The report in this morning's Gazette to the effect that a small boy interrupted Senator McDonald while the latter was speaking last evening, is as false as it is possible for a falsehood to be, and Mr. Keil, who is universally respected for truth and veracity, is gaining nothing by allowing his paper to handle truth in such a reckless manner. If there is not sufficient calibre about the Gazette office to learnedly comment on the distinguished Senator's speech, the better way would be to let it alone and say nothing.

CAREFUL CRACKSMEN.

They Burglarize a Store and Leave Not the Slightest Clue.

A daring burglary was committed at Monroeville last night and so systematically did the thieves go about and accomplish their work that not the slightest clue remains by which they could be traced.

About midnight the hardware store of J. B. Nialr, at the above place, was broken into by cracksmen who obtained an entrance by springing open a window in the rear of the store. A large number of revolvers and knives, besides an amount of other stuff which could be easily handled, were taken. When the discovery that the store had been entered was made this morning Sheriff Munson was immediately notified and at once proceeded to work. As there is no clue whatever the chances for the apprehension of the guilty parties are not good, but our efficient Sheriff will catch them if it is possible.

The Gold Seekers Admonished.

The many thousand adventurous seekers after gold and silver in the far west, should meditate upon the fact that in the July drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Mr. Jacob Rabiner, No. 590 Grand street, New York City, drew one-half of the capital prize, $30,000. Mr. Max Stern, also of New York City, drew a similar sum. Messrs. N. Israil, H. Oppenheim, and B. Rosenblum, of 91 Chryse street, New York City, drew one-half of the second capital prize of $10,000. Mrs. Eliza McGrain, also of New York City, (by Adams Express), drew one-half of the third prize of $5,000, and Mr. William Matthews, of Mt. Vernon, Westchester county, New York, drew a similar amount, and each one only paid one dollar. Why, it almost makes a person determine at once to write to M. A. Dauphine, No. 319 Broadway, New York City or same person at New Orleans, Louisiana, for the particulars of the next drawing on September 14th.

Mme. DEMOREST'S

Patterns

Given

Away.

Mme. Demorest having broken faith with us, by putting her patterns on sale in two other establishments in town, and having failed to make good her promises to these two parties, as well as ourselves, we have decided to drop her patterns, very much as people drop a hot potato.

Tuesday morning, August 24th, we shall commence to dispose of them after this fashion: Every customer purchasing goods in any of our departments, to the amount of one dollar and upwards, will be handed a catalogue of Mme. Demorest's latest styles of patterns, from which they will be requested to select one pattern which they most desire. This will then be wrapped up with their goods free of charge. This system will be continued from day to day until the entire stock on hand has been given away. These patterns are for basques, train skirts, walking skirts, overskirts, walking costumes, princess dresses, wrappers, polonaises, cloaks, jackets, blouses, dolmans, ulsters, &c., for ladies and misses, also a full line of patterns for ladies' underwear, and for boys' and children's suits. There is not an old pattern in the entire lot.

As we are anxious to close them out at once, we hope our friends will not be backward in coming forward to secure them. The usual prices of these patterns are 20, 25, and 30 cents.
